The Woodshedders "O Dig" 2011

- 1. Badger Blood – A rowdy, two-chord pint-raiser in which everyone joins the chorus "bathe your brother in the badger blood!" between rousing fiddle and dobro solos.
- 2. Narwhal - A hot gypsy campfire style instrumental.
- 3. Slipping Through – An ode to momentary summer romance with an acoustic reggae groove, backup singing, and sweet mandolin solo.
- 4. Viper James - A hard-swingin' little yarn about a Johnny Appleseed type character and his quest for "making little trees into little clouds".
- 5. Four Winds - A rockin' country anthem about the awakening of wanderlust, and answering the call of the road.
- 6. Virginia's Fair Daughters - Waltz about a young man, come musician, traveler, who imagines being called back home after choosing a life of adventure over love.
- 7. Sand Grain – A bluesy, dylan-esque song-romp about measuring up to heroes past and present and discovering the artistry of being yourself.
- 8. Swallow's Wings - A lilting jazz ballad sung by Aimee Curl and Morgan Morrison about the curiosity of toiling away at nothing amid the wonder of the world.
- 9. Chicken to Change - A funky, rap epic jam number that explores the reality of change in the world via the self.
